

HOOPLA 2018

RELEASE OCTOBER 2018

NEW ZEALAND POETRY. RRP: NZD $25

Mākarō Press series

www.makaropress.co.nz

Paperback with flaps, 130 x 190mm

Series editor: Mary McCallum

This Thin Now by Jo Thorpe ISBN 978-0-9951110-0-4

Her Limitless Her by Reihana Robinson ISBN 978-0-9941378-8-3

Over There a Mountain by Elizabeth Welsh ISBN 978-0-9941378-9-0

SERIES ISBN 978-0-9951110-1-1

This Thin Now tells the story of a love lost and of the places the poet finds it still – from inside the space two hands make to the numinous blue of sea and sky. These are poems of dazzle and quiet that give the reader a rare gift.

The bounty of women, how far they'll go, how far they can stretch – to love, to encompass, to bear. Find them here: bosom-packed, dreamy, dragging their offspring, twinsets askew, peeling, darning, preening. In Her Limitless Her Reihana Robinson has created a beguiling space for her to stretch on the page, and for joy to dance and grief to spin.

It's hard to know how to be with a mother who is a mountain. It's hard to feel how to be with a father who is a mountain. It's hard to explain that luminous bond and the bewilderingly stretched distance. Anxious, the mountain-daughter holds what is bright to hold and takes without asking what is bright to the eye, tries to stave off becoming a mountain herself, while finding out what it is that makes her human. Over There a Mountain is an incandescent first collection.

HOOPLA entices readers with the quality of its poets and the attraction of a vibrant series with three books launching at once by a late-career, mid-career and debut New Zealand poet.

HOOPLA SUCCESS:

- Mr Clean and The Junkie longlisted for the Ockham NZ Book Awards
- Poems from Native Bird and Where the Fish Grow chosen for Best NZ Poems and The 20/20 Collection
- Hoopla poets performed on a Melbourne tour 2015 and at Wellington's Litcrawl 2015. Hoopla reviews on www.makaropress.co.nz

'Suave new kid on the boutique publishing block, Mākarō Press breaks fresh territory with their exciting series of poetry collections.' SIOBHAN HARVEY

'Entertaining, diverting, challenging, laughter inducing. How wonderful that a poetry collection can do all of this.' PAULA GREEN

Sales / distribution: David Bateman

Bryce Gibson • bryceg@bateman.co.nz • 09 415 7664

HOOPLA SERIES

Jo Thorpe is a poet, dancer and dance critic. She has a master's in creative writing from the International Institute of Modern Letters and until recently taught dance history at the New Zealand School of Dance, Wellington. Jo has published two previous volumes of poetry and written dance criticism for a variety of publications. She has three daughters and five grandchildren, and lives in Gisborne.

Coromandel poet and artist Reihana Robinson works across cultural boundaries, critical moments and emotional fault lines. She lives part of the year in the United States and has held artist residencies at the East-West Center (Honolulu) and Anderson Center (Minnesota). Her poems have been published in journals in New Zealand, Australia and North America. Reihana was the inaugural winner of Te Atairangikaahu Award for Poetry, featured in AUP New Poets 3 and National Poetry Day's 20/20. This is her second collection of poetry.

Elizabeth Welsh is an academic editor, working for university presses worldwide, editor and founder of online journal The Typewriter and was co-editor of Flash Frontier. She has published poetry and short fiction in journals in New Zealand and overseas, and was the 2012 winner of the Auckland University Press Divine Muses Emerging Poets Award. She lives in Auckland with her partner and daughter.

.....
Still available: HOOPLA 2014, 2015, 2016 & 2017

2017

Dylan Junkie by Jeffrey Paparao Holman

ISBN 978-0-9941378-0-7

Family History by Johanna Emeney

ISBN 978-0-9941378-1-4

Wolf by Elizabeth Morton

ISBN 978-0-9941378-2-1

2016

Withstanding by Helen Jacobs

ISBN 978-0-9941172-8-1

Udon by The Remarkables by Harvey Molloy

ISBN 978-0-9941172-9-8

Where the Fish Grow by Ish Doney

ISBN 978-0-9941237-1-8

2015

Mr Clean & The Junkie by Jennifer Compton

ISBN 978-0-9941172-3-6

Native Bird by Bryan Walpert

ISBN 978-0-9941065-6-8

Bones in the Octagon by Carolyn McCurdie

ISBN 978-0-9941172-1-2

2014

Heart Absolutely I Can by Michael Harlow

ISBN 978-0-473-27647-8

Cinema by Helen Rickerby

ISBN 978-0-473-27648-5

Bird murder by Stefanie Lash

ISBN 978-0-473-27649-2